Charity & Not-for-Profit

Supporting you in every situation...

...unlike this shoe

The challenges facing charities and not-for-profit organisations remain complex. Tackling issues ranging from effective governance and staff retention to financial controls, risk management and ever changing regulation, places enormous demands on those managing charities.

Wilkins Kennedy offer support and advice to help you meet these challenges and respond effectively to provide practical solutions.

Innovative; Passionate; Inspired.

Supporting trustees and management

We strive to support your management team meet the demands of running an efficient organisation, while balancing the requirement for accountability, flexibility and transparency. Our experts will keep you up to date on best practice in the sector and draw on their broader experience to provide practical guidance. We also provide specific advice to trustees on how best to meet their statutory obligations and execute their roles and responsibilities.

Understanding your needs

Because we appreciate that every organisation is different, its requirements vary and its people are unique, we have structured our services and support in such a way that we can meet your needs now and as you grow and change. We take the time to listen and to understand your organisation which enables us to create solutions that fit your overall strategy.

Building lasting relationships

At Wilkins Kennedy our clients take centre stage in our business. Our focus is on doing an excellent job for each and every client. We are passionate about service and place great emphasis on delivering a personal partner-led approach. This means you will have regular access to partners and staff.

Supportive; Flexible; Reliable.

Our clients

We act for over 250 voluntary sector organisations. Our clients represent a diverse range of organisations, large and small. While many of our clients are local to our offices, we work with organisations throughout the UK.

A team you can rely on

Our dedicated Charity and Not-for-Profit Group includes a range of specialists with in-depth sector knowledge and expertise. With years of experience in the sector, we are able to understand issues from your point of view which in turn ensures we deliver relevant advice when you need it most. At the same time our advice is underpinned by our broader commercial awareness.
